

RANDOM STEPPING STONE

A patio slab that looks like natural stone, but is easier to install

Our Random Stepping Stone is a hot new trend in the landscape industry. This patio stone has a random shape and is specifically designed to look like random flagstone. However, unlike real natural stone, these patio slabs are much easier to install because it has a flat underside and every piece has a uniform thickness.

Random Stepping Stone Patio Stones are available in one 14x14" size and shape, and three nature-inspired colours: Natural Charcoal, Mocha Charcoal and Chamois Charcoal. Perhaps one of these colours is just right to be support many good times in your patio or outdoor kitchen area?
